C. FINISHING SUGGESTIONS

1. DIAGONAL SQUARE & GARTER STITCH SQUARE COT BLANKETS

- You can finish your squares off as follows:
  - Crochet a single chain border around the square in the same colour you knitted the square in. Remember to single crochet 3 times into the same stitch in each corner,
  - Change to the colour you will be joining and bordering your squares with. Complete a further single chain border around the square.
  - Then complete another round in double crochet, then a final round in single crochet (this gives strength and helps the squares hold their shape).

D. HOW TO JOIN KNITTED PIECES WITH THE MATTRESS STITCH

Mattress stitch makes a practically invisible and nicely flexible seam for joining pieces side to side. You cannot use mattress stitch successfully, however, on pieces that don't have the same number of rows on each piece.

1. Lay out your pieces next to each other, right sides facing up, bottom edges toward you.

You seam from the bottom edge up. If you've left a tail of yarn at the cast-on edge, you can use it to get started.

2. Locate the running thread between the first and second stitches on the bottom row of one piece.

Gently pull apart the first two edge stitches to see the series of little horizontal — running — threads connecting them.

3. Thread the tail of yarn or a fresh piece on a tapestry needle.

Make sure your tapestry needle is blunt to avoid piercing the yarn.

4. Join the bottom edges of the pieces, using a figure eight.

Work through the two threads on the cast-on row.

5. Bring your needle under the thread; then pick up the running thread between the first and second stitches on the opposing piece.

This step begins your mattress stitch pattern.

6. Work back and forth from running thread to running thread to running thread, keeping the tension easy but firm.

Check the tension by pulling laterally on the seam from time to time. The amount of give should be the same as between two stitches.
